Best Of 2006

SINGLES. 2006 was a year of significant change on the ARIA charts. In January, the chart week changed from a Sunday to Saturday week to run from Saturday to Friday. ARIA then launched the Digital Track chart in April, followed by the inclusion of Digital sales into the main Singles Chart in October. This was accompanied by the introduction of the Physical Singles chart at the same time.

On the charts, a total of 510 singles reached the Australian top 100 during 2006 of which 322 made it to the top 50 and 79 got as far as the top 10. Three long running chart toppers restricted the number of No.1s during the year to 13 (down from 22 in 2005 and the smallest number since 1999 when only 9 titles made it to No.1).

Here are this year's top 10 Singles -

No.1 I WISH I WAS A PUNK ROCKER (WITH FLOWERS IN MY HAIR) – Sandi Thom. One of the first "Internet Generation" of music stars. Legend has it that Sandi launched her career via a webcam in her bedroom. Whatever the truth of the matter, this song was a smash, hitting No.1 in September and remaining there for ten straight weeks through into November. In doing so, it became the longest running No.1 in Australia in over four years.

No.2 FLAUNT IT – TV Rock Feat. Seany B. The top local Single of the year, and for the first time since the series began, it does not belong to one of the Australian Idol Like the Sandi Thom single above, this was also the debut hit for both TV Rock, and Seany B, hitting No.1 for five weeks in March and April. This Single achieved two milestones during the year – its 22 weeks in the top 10 were the most by an Australian act in the history of the ARIA Charts and the most by any act since Breathe by The Prodigy spent 24 weeks in the top 10 in 1996/97. Also, its 45 weeks in the top 100 during 2006 was only equaled by one other title – Westlife's No.3 hit You Raise Me Up which came in at No.14 for the year.

No.3 HIPS DON'T LIE – Shakira Feat Wyclef Jean. The last time Shakira graced our End of Year lists was in 2002 when she landed three Singles in the top 100 including the No.2 hit of that year, Whenever Wherever. She only has one in this year's top 100 but it was big, spending nine weeks at No.1 between June and August.

No.4 SEXYBACK – Justin Timberlake. Justin hit the top 10 with two singles during 2006 and both of them made the top 100 of 2006. His No.3 hit My Love found its way to No.35 for the year, but the biggest hit of his solo career to date spent 2 weeks at No.1 in August and sits at No.4 for the year. The nearest he has been to that achievement was in 2000 when his boy group N Sync* hit No.7 for that year with Bye, Bye, Bye.

No.5 I DON'T FEEL LIKE DANCIN' – Scissor Sisters. Prior to this hit the Scissor Sisters had hit the ARIA Australian top 100 four times without reaching the top 20. This one changed all that, spending two weeks at No.1 in November. It stayed in the top 10 for 15 weeks during 2006 and was still there going into 2007.

No.6 THIS TIME I KNOW IT'S FOR REAL – Young Divas. The highest ranked Idol of 2006 is, in fact four Idols – Paulini, Kate DeAraugo, Rickie-Lee and Emily Williams. Of the four, only Emily is yet to taste solo success but the efforts of the group hitting the top 10 twice through the year must be a source of pride to all of them. This remake of Donna Summer's No.40 hit from October 1989 was their first hit, reaching No.2 for three weeks in May and June. Their follow-up Happenin' All Over Again hit No.9 in November and sits at No.72 for the year.

No.7 FOREVER YOUNG – Youth Group. This song has now been a hit in Australia three times in three decades and it has grown bigger each successive hit. The original version by Alphaville reached No.47 in 1985 then dance act Interactive turned it into a No.15 hit in 1995. The 2006 version by Melbourne's Youth Group, which hit No.1 for a couple of weeks in April was also an extremely strong Digital seller, landing at No.1 on ARIA's first annual Digital Track chart.

No.8 WASABI – Lee Harding. Timing is everything! Last year's Australian Idol winner Kate DeAraugo released her first single Maybe Tonight a few weeks before runner-up, Lee. However, that served to split her sales between the 2005 and 2006 End of Year charts, the single hitting No.51 for 2005 and coming in at No.49 in 2006. Lee on the other hand lost some sales to 2005 but with the majority of its chart run (including three weeks at No.1) during 2006 it finds its place among the top 10 for the year.

No.9 WHO KNEW – Pink. Alescia Moore (aka Pink) is one of the three artists who was able to place three singles in the top 100 of 2006 and to her credit, they all landed within the top 40 on that list. All three of them reached the top 5 on the weekly charts during the year – Stupid Girls hit No.4 in March (No.39 for 2006) and U + Ur Hand spent a few weeks at No.5 in October (No.25 for 2006) while the biggest of the three reached No.2 for a couple of weeks in July. Despite having had two previous No.1 hits (Most Girls in 2000 and Get The Party Started in 2001/2002), this is her best ever End of Year Singles Chart placing in Australia.

No.10 PROMISCUOUS – Nelly Furtado. This is Nelly's second single to hit an ARIA End of Year top 10. She first achieved the feat with her debut hit I'm Like A Bird which was the 7th biggest seller in Australia in 2001. In 2006 she has two singles among the top 100 of the year – Maneater (No.4 October) at No.21 and this No.2 hit from July / August.

The end of 2006 came just a little too soon for Australian Idol 2006 winner Damien Leith whose debut single Night Of Your Life spent the final four weeks of the year at No.1 to fall just short of the year-end top 10 (No.11).

ALBUMS. In contrast to the stability at the top of the singles chart in 2006, the No.1 position on the album charts was one of the most volatile of recent years with a total of 29 albums reaching the top during the year. A record 23 of those albums hit No.1 on debut. 493 Albums hit the top 100 during 2006 with 323 of them reaching the top 50 and 97 climbing into the top 10.

The year-end charts included 8 acts with more than one album each. Robbie Williams and Il Divo topped the list with three each in the top 100. There were 33 Aussie acts among the top 100 of the year (up from 32 last year) with an unprecedented 7 of them in the year's top 10, which are -

No.1 BACK TO BEDLAM – James Blunt. A deserving No.1 – this album has been a consistently big seller since its debut in 2005. In fact, it spent 4 weeks at No.1 in 2005 and sold sufficient copies to take it to No.9 for the year. It doubled that number with 8 more weeks at No.1 during 2006 (in January, February, April and May), remaining in the top 100 for the whole of 2006 and in the top 10 for over half the year. It is the first album since The Eminem Show in 2002 and 2003 to spend consecutive years in the year-end top 10 charts.

No.2 I'M NOT DEAD – Pink. Although this album could only manage one week at No.1 during 2006 (in October), this album spent more time in the top 10 than any other during the year – a total of 30 weeks. On the final weekly chart of 2006 it was still selling strongly at No.5. It will be one to look out for in the year-end list for 2007.

No.3 REACH OUT: THE MOTOWN RECORD – Human Nature. Human Nature was the only act to have two No.1 albums during 2006. This album returned to the top for Mother's Day in May, adding a week to the two weeks that it landed at Xmas 2005, while the their follow-up, Dancing In The Street – The Songs Of Motown II spent four weeks at No.1 in October and November. Reach Out was the No.29 best selling album of 2005 and won the 2006 ARIA Award for the highest selling Australian album.

No.4 WOLF MOTHER – Wolfmother. The highest ranked album not to have hit No.1 during 2006. Sydney trio Wolfmother's breakthrough album entered the charts at No.3 in November 2005. It sold consistently in 2005 and became the 50th best seller of that year. In 2006 it again climbed to No.3 twice, first in January and again in February. While a total of ten albums spent the whole year in the top 100, this was the only one to have spent the entire year within the top 50. In fact, the lowest position that it reached in the whole year was No.34.

No.5 THE WINNER'S JOURNEY – Damien Leith. Damien's journey appears to have just begun. The winner of Australian Idol 2006, Damien released this album in early December 2006. Yet, despite being on the charts for just three weeks at the end of 2006, the album's robust sales performance took it into the top 5 for 2006. It compares favourably with previous Idol albums – Guy Sebastian had the No.5 album of 2003 with Just As I Am, Shannon Noll was the best performer of 2004 with That's What I'm Talking About at No.2 for that year and Anthony Callea was the strongest performer in 2005 with his self titled album coming in at No.17 for the year.

No.6 HERE COME THE DRUMS – Rogue Traders. Rogue Traders had experienced limited success prior to this album, primarily in the dance genre. However, the addition of the Neighbours actress Natalie Bassingthwaite complemented their sound and this album became their breakthrough mainstream hit. After debuting at No.9 in October 2005, it dropped out of the top 30 before returning for two extended runs in the top 10 during 2006. It peaked at No.2 for a couple of weeks in March and April 2006.

No.7 BLACK FINGERNAILS, RED WINE – Eskimo Joe. Another strong chart performance by an Australian trio. The second Australian top 10 album for Fremantle's Eskimo Joe. This album spent its first three chart weeks at No.1 in June 2006 and bounced back for a fourth week at the top in July. Two years ago, their previous album A Song Is A City hit No.2 on its way to becoming the No.35 album of 2004.

No.8 STADIUM ARCADIU – Red Hot Chili Peppers. Spending three weeks at No.1 in May and June, this is the fifth No.1 album in Australia for the Chili Peppers. They are no strangers to the year-end top 10s either, having landed at No.5 for 1992 with Blood Sugar Sex Magik, No.9 in 1999 and then No.6 in 2000 with Californication and most recently hitting No.7 for 2002 with By The Way.

No.9 BONED! – The 12th Man. Continuing a tradition of smash hit Summer sport related comedy albums from Billy Birmingham (aka The 12th Man), this is his seventh album to hit No.1 since January 1988. However, despite multiple platinum sales for his albums, this is only his second to feature in an end of year top 10 due in large part to the fact that his albums are usually released very late in the year and therefore have their sales split into two calendar years. He reached No.8 in ARIA's 1994 list with his fourth album Wired World Of Sports 2. Boned! Hit No.1 for a week in December 2006.

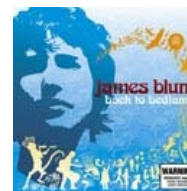

No.10 THE SECRET LIFE OF... – The Veronicas. The debut album for Brisbane twins Lisa and Jess Origliasso first hit the chart in October 2005 and sold well enough to rank as the No.46 album of that year. It started 2006 in the top 10, ultimately climbing to No.2 for a couple of weeks in April & May. It is one of 10 albums that spent the whole of 2006 within the top 100.
